This is a large assymmetrical frame house of two and one half stories. The front portion consists of a rectangular block under a hip roof that rises to a peak. To the rear of this is a large gabled wing forming an L shaped house. On the front facade are three bays with a gable over the two slightly projecting bays toward the north. Across the front and part of the south facade is a one story porch supported by Doric columns with a ballustrade between the columns. In front of the door is an ornamented pediment.
